FAQ's

Q: Where is the camp located?

A: Riverside City College, RCC Coil School for the Arts: 3890 University Ave Riverside, CA 92501

Q: What level of experience should someone have to be a participant in your workshop?

A: Camp McNab is for everybody. The focus of this workshop begins with each morning, when my faculty and I will be teaching the participants the same warm up I've done for many years, which can result in extraordinary efficiency. This is key for any trumpeter on any level and we have had absolute beginners as well as seasoned professionals in attendance.

Q: What will the atmosphere be like?

A: Camp McNab is very casual. Though the seminar will be an intense study in the basics of trumpet playing, the atmosphere will be very informal and relaxed.

Q: What will the schedule be like?

A: In the mornings we will warm up together. We will teach you the routines I have practiced for over 50 years. We will check that all participants fully understand how to perform these routines properly. After the warm ups, we will take a lunch break, then reconvene and apply the concepts we have learned from the warm ups to solo and ensemble music. We will have tutorials and master classes that demonstrate these concepts in diverse settings.
